11 March 1944.

SUBJECT: Leader's Narrative, Mission No 35, 11 March 1944.

TO : Commanding Officer, 401st Bombardment Group (H).

1. The 401st Group furnished the lead box for the 94th Combat Wing formation. Takeoff and Assembly were as briefed. Departure from Point X was one minute early. The High and Low boxes were assembled at this time and in trail. Point A was reached one minute early and climb was started to briefed altitude. Division assembly point was reached one minute early but a large S to the south was necessary to avoid a Wing of B-24's and point Z was departed two and a half minutes late. The third division was in trail after Point Z but several minutes behind. On nearing the enemy coast while climbing to briefed altitude, a cloud layer was encountered that could not be climbed over and would probably have put the Wing over enemy territory at a very disadvantageous altitude if it had gone under it. A turn to the north was made and a climb started. Clouds to the north were higher and thinner enabling the Wing to pass under them, turn south and cross the enemy coast at the briefed point. This maneuver brought the 94th Combat Wing in abreast of the Third Division which had continued straight in. The mission was flown with the Combat Wings in this position to the IP. At this point the 94th Combat Wing opened to the north and flew beyond the briefed IP to uncover the Third Division which bombed the target first. The 94th Combat Wing bombed in close trail six and a half minutes late at the target and came home as briefed, except for the let down which was delayed by high undercast. All ships returned safely. Friendly fighter cover was excellent and as briefed.

B. K. VOORHEES,
Lt Col, Air Corps,
Wing Leader.

SUBJECT: Operational Narrative, Mission 35, 11 March 1944.

TO : Commanding Officer, 401st Bomb Group (H).

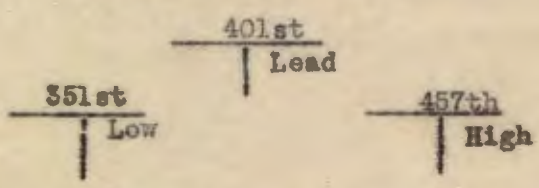

1. GENERAL NARRATIVE: The 401st furnished the lead box for the 94th CBW Formation, taking off with nineteen group aircraft (incl. spares) and two PFF aircraft. Take-off was as briefed and all assemblies were normal. Departure from Point "Z" was two and half minutes late due to some difficulty encountered in avoiding a wing of B-24's. Upon reaching the enemy coast an "S" was made in order to escape some bad weather. This maneuver, plus the necessity to uncover the 3rd Division ahead, put the 94th CBW six and a half minutes late over the target. The 94th CBW followed in the main the briefed course home, the route over the channel was flown somewhat north of course in order to avoid weather. The English coast was reached about eighteen minutes late and due to undercast let down was delayed. All ships returned safely to home base within 30-40 minutes of briefed time. Friendly fighters escort was excellent, it being in evidence both in the penetration and the withdrawal of the Wing.

2. AIRCRAFT NOT ATTACKING: 19 group aircraft (incl. 3 spares) took off and were dispatched. All spares flew the entire mission, presumably making a third element in the high Sqds. No ships returned early and all attacked the target.

3. LOST AIRCRAFT: No aircraft were lost. No enemy air opposition was encountered; flak over the target area was moderate- fairly inaccurate. Only three aircraft experienced minor flak damage.

4. FORMATIONS:

- a. On takeoff and cruise (see enclosure)
- b. Over target (see enclosure)
- c. Position in Wing formation, as follows:

5. RESULTS: Because of complete undercast, it was impossible to observe bombing results. However all aircraft bombed on the PFF and the execution was normal.

11 March, 1944.

Subject: Crew Comments and Suggestions - Mission 11 March 1944.

TO : COMMANDING OFFICER, 401st Bombardment Group (H), APO 634.
(Through Lt. Col. Brooks and Lt. Col. Voorhees.)

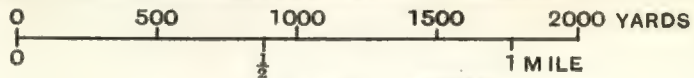

1. The following crew comments were extracted from interrogation forms of Munster mission this date and are submitted to you for your perusal;
2. Maj. Martin (co-pilot) A/C 1485, says there was good formation flying all the way by our group and the 457th group.
3. Sgt. Koehler, (LWG) A/C0001 thinks it is a better idea for waist gunner to throw out chaff instead of ROG - then it does not catch on waist guns.
4. Lts. Knight and Hugin, (pilot and co-pilot respectively of A/C 1983 commend the leader of the high squadron for an excellent job of formation flying.
5. Lt. Fox (pilot) A/C 1891, says that leaders evasive action in flak areas was much too violent and therefore disrupted the formation.
6. Lt. Keith (pilot) A/C 0855, complained that someone went into his equipment bag and took his oxygen mask. Resents the borrowing characteristic of the person responsible.
7. The entire crew of A/C 1369 commend engineering for a swell job of changing a tire just before T/O.
8. The entire crew of A/C 0050 complained that food has been very poor for almost a month and suffered cramps on mission. Lt. Smith (pilot) says group lead was bad today and that he called them for an hour and couldn't get a reply.
9. The whole crew of A/C 1072 stressed the need for flash lights on these very dark mornings.
10. Several members of A/C 1116 comment on the fact that no rags were available at armament shop to clean their guns and that oil cans were empty.
11. Lt. Kuhl, A/C 1496, mentioned that leader took too violent evasive action after bombs away which necessitated a 60 deg. bank. He also mentioned that Clatton used VHF for twenty-five continuous minutes on "A" channel from 0825 to 0850 after leaving point Z.
