"MISSION SUMMARY"

MISSION NO. 45
27TH. MARCH, 1944

94TH. COMBAT BOMB WING
401ST. BOMBARDMENT GROUP (H)

REPORT OF OPERATIONAL
DAY

MISSION No. 45

Date: 27 MAR. 44

TO: TOURS , FRANCE

OFFICE OF THE INTELLIGENCE OFFICER
STATION 128 - APO 557
U. S. ARMY

D-G-1

27 March 1944.

SUBJECT: Comments of Crews Participating in Mission to Tours, France,
27 March 1944.

TO : COMMANDING OFFICER, Station 128, APO 557, U. S. Army. (Thru Lt. Col. B. K. Voorhees and Lt. Col. A. C. Brooks).

1. Lt. William Riegler, Pilot A/C 1081, criticizes the weather forecast broadcast two hours before expected ETR from Polebrook; he states that the forecast gives ceiling and visibility, but does not state whether or not there are breaks in the clouds through which let-down might be made. This Airplane Commander thinks cloud coverage should be given in tenths.
2. T/Sgt. Milton J. Lips, ROG A/C 1081, criticized radio procedure of all combat wing lead operators excepting 351st Group operator in ship leading 94th Combat Wing; he says most operators attempt to send bomb strike messages without securing a channel clearance.
3. S/Sgt. John C. Jack, BTG A/C 1081, wishes that the farmer who lives in the 613th Squadron area would move his refuse pile, because it smells badly.
4. Lt. Alexander Livingstone, Pilot A/C 0855, was of the opinion that the 94th Combat Wing passed too closely to flak installation at Le Havre.
5. Lt. Fred Brown, Jr., Co-Pilot A/C 9904, stated that the mess-hall was too crowded this morning.
6. Lt. Alfred R. Autry, Bombardier A/C 9881, thinks that covers should be provided for trucks furnishing transportation to and from briefing room.
7. Lt. Charles F. Hess, Pilot A/C 1857, stated that there were bad gas fumes in his A/C today.
8. The crew of Lt. Edwin A. Post, Pilot A/C 1077, criticized the breakfast served in the combat mess, saying the eggs were greasy and cold and the mess-hall crowded.
9. Apparently due to the large number of crews attempting to use the latrines at the same times today, several criticisms were made to the effect that latrines were crowded and smelly, and stools needed emptying. These criticisms were made by: the crew of Lt. Edwin A. Post, Pilot A/C 1077, the crew of Lt. G. D. Byrd, Pilot A/C 7498, the crew of Lt. Mervin J. Christensen, Pilot A/C 9837. This criticism also extended to the latrines and the 612th Squadron and 613th Squadron equipment rooms.

10. Lt. Charles R. Vickeroy, Bombardier A/C 7496, states that transportation from the briefing room to dispersal areas, in the morning is delayed because crews hold trucks until briefing is over. He thinks crews should take their equipment to A/C first and then release the truck. Lt. Vickeroy also thinks that, when crews land late, ~~and~~ special effort should be made to serve them a warm meal instead of cold outs.

11. Lt. Jay A. Wade, Navigator A/C 1619, would like to have extra fuses ( $\frac{3}{4}$  and  $\frac{1}{2}$ ) put in planes for flux gate compasses; The fuse in his compass burned out making navigation difficult.

12. Lt. Dan C. Knight, Pilot A/C 1983, wants to commend Lt. Wysocki for his excellent leadership of the 615th Squadron.

13. Lt. Charles S. Ksiendowicz, Pilot A/C 1118, would like to have fighter rendezvous times included on flimsy as well as coordinates. This Airplane Commander also stated that the low squadron of the 94th Combat Wing flew higher than the lead squadron did.

14. Lt. William R. Dawes, Jr., Pilot A/C 8162, thinks that hinged windshields on some A/C should be replaced with plain-glass windshields. This Airplane Commander also suggests that, when a mission is scrubbed, the crews be told the reason.

15. Lt. Stephen Wysocki, Pilot A/C 1069, stated that take-off interval today was from 60 to 75 seconds; he also stated that the formation flown by the 401st Group in the 94th Combat Wing was too loose.

16. Several comments concerning the good leadership and formation of the 401st Box in the Composite Combat Wing were made by the following: Lt. Ellsworth E. Christensen, Pilot A/C 7843, Lt. Bryan M. Shotts, Pilot A/C 1072, Lt. Harry J. Hershhey, Pilot A/C 1496. Lt. Robert J. Ramsey, Co-Pilot A/C 9943, thought the high squadron was too close to the lead squadron and not uncovered sufficiently for protection. He stated that the bombs fell too close for comfort.

17. Lt. Kenneth G. Wells, Pilot A/C 1087, criticized the 360 degree turn over the target by the Composite Combat Wing.

18. Lt. Lawrence J. Hildinger, Navigator A/C 7073, observed that one Group behind the 401st Box in the Composite Combat Wing dropped their bombs in a river.

SUBJECT: Enemy Opposition and Tactical Analysis Report on Mission to Tours, France, 27 March 1944.

TO : Commanding General, 1st Bombardment Division, APO 557, U.S. Army.
(Attention: A-2).

1. 2 to 4 E/A were encountered of the Me-109 and FW-190 type. Attacks were concentrated on our low squadron of the low box flying with the 94th Combat Wing. They were observed to come in at 6 o'clock-2 Me-109's coming in high at 1422 hours and broke off attack 100 yards from our A/C. At 1425 hours, one FW-190 came in low and closed in to 300 yards but did not fire at us. At 1435 hours, right after bomb run, one FW-190 was observed to come in level and broke off attack within 300 to 400 yards and to the left. E/A were noted to be silver Me-109's and light blue on the FW-190's with a black cross. <sup>Fighter</sup> cover was observed to be excellent in target area and withdrawal.

E-1

29 March 1944.

SUBJECT: Comments of crews Participating in Mission to Brunswick, Germany,
29 March 1944.

TO : Commanding Officer, Station 128, APO 557, U S Army.

1. Captain Leon Stann, Deputy Group Leader, thinks formation leader should not have let down until after reaching splasher; let down today was started at enemy coast. Capt Stann also observed that the second element of the high squadron of this Group started discharging chaff a few minutes too early.
2. Lt William R Daves Jr (Pilot) A/C 8162 thought air speed maintained by leader was too slow leaving target and returning home.
3. Lt Andrew C Wilhelm (Navigator) A/C 1521, said a 351st Group A/C dropped bombs three minutes late and nearly hit A/C 002 of 401st Group.
4. Lt Charles S Ksieniewics (Pilot) A/C 1118 stated that 467th Group apparently "S"ed to stay in formation and their high squadron came too close to the 401st Group, once actually passing over the top of this Group. This airplane commander also criticized let down at enemy coast and 360° turns made between cloud layers.
5. Lt Fred D Grinham (Pilot) A/C 1077 complimented Major William T Seawell for his excellent job of leading the formation.
6. S/Sgt Charles L Cartmill (ING) A/C 1316, states that hoods are needed for gunners which give more protection from cold.
7. Lt James C Sharp (Pilot) A/C 7000, stated that food served at breakfast at Combat Mess gave him gas pains. He also stated that there was nothing to put on his bread this morning.
