2. Commitments: The 401st Group furnished the complete 36 A/C 94th "C" Group. Two PFF A/C were included in the lead squadron and one in each of the other two squadrons. A spare accompanied each formation.

EXECUTION

2. a. Group Leader: Major R. J. WHITE (Turk)
    Lead Navigator: 1st Lt. A. L. CONE (Thorpe-MO)
    Lead Bombardier: 1st Lt. M. L. MOORE
    Extra Navigator: Capt. C. W. SELLERS
- b. Low Sqdn Leader: 1st Lt. G. W. UTTER Lead Navigator: 1st Lt. E. DAMP (Goodman-MO)
        Lead Bombardier: 1st Lt. J. F. HOPE
- c. High Sqdn Leader: 1st Lt. J. W. MC GOLDRICK
        Lead Navigator: 1st Lt. L. G. LEWIS (Peterson-MO)
        Lead Bombardier: 1st Lt. G. W. PEEK

3. Flight Over England:

a. Takeoff:

Takeoff was normal and accomplished as briefed.

b. Squadron and Group Assemblies:

Assembly altitdue was raised 3000' which caused the assembly to be slow. It was decided to hold the Group until 0843 and then go direct to CP #1. The group was complete and in good formation on departure.

MISSION SUMMARY REPORT (Cont)

3. c. Route Over England:

"A" and "B" Groups decided on the same plan as "C" group so Wing assembly was made on the line to CP #1. Wing assembly was very good.

4. Attack:

a. Flight to Target:

The route was flown as briefed to the IP. As the whole area was overcast, it was decided to bomb the primary PFF. When Buckeye Red reported the area to the South to be open the plan was changed and the Group flew direct to the clear area where a target of opportunity was bombed.

b. Bombing Run:

Lead Sq: Buckeye called us just after we turned off the briefed IP and told us the weather was clear further along the route, and advised us to pick up a T.O. there, so we abandoned our PFF run on the Primary and proceeded to look for a T.O. We picked up the town of Weizenburg and started a run on it but half way down we saw another group hit it so we looked for another target and picked up Ottingen. We saw that someone else hit the center of town so the bombardier aimed at the road bridge, over the river, just East of the town. All ships salvoed. The AFCE worked okay. Bomb strikes covered the Aiming Point with excellent results.

Low Sq: We followed in trail of the lead squadron. The bombardier saw a small marshalling yard just past the town and aimed at that. He hit the yards but the formation was rather loose, scattering the pattern around somewhat, but there were many strikes in the yards and all the tracks leading in and out of the yard. All ships salvoed. The AFCE was okay.

High Sq: We came in just behind the Lead and Low squadrons. The bombardier saw the two bridges over the river just short of the town. He picked out the railroad bridge on the left for his aiming point. Strikes fell in a loose pattern but covered the bridge and the tracks leading up to the bridge on either side. All ships salvoed. The AFCE worked okay.

4. c. Flight From Target:

Flight from target was as briefed.

d. Return to Base:

Buckeye Red and Cycle Relay recommended the altitude on return as 10,000'-letting down in the channel to 6,000' and returning to base in a clear level. Solid cloud was encountered near England and a frontal penetration was made returning to base. Five A/C found it advisable to land on continent, two returning next day.

4. e. Weather:

Weather on reaching the continent was described as 10/10ths to South SW of Nurnberg. From this point it became clear and over target was CAVU, continuing clear on route back. 10/10ths cloud was encountered over the channel and over England.

f. Fighter Support:

Excellent. Rendezvous was made with the 20th Group and close support was given throughout the flight.

g. Comments on Formation:

Group formation was excellent throughout the mission. The low and high squadrons had rather loose formations on bomb run.

h. Conclusions and Recommendations:

That weather on return be made thoroughly scouted and that reliable instructions be given by Cycle Relay before reaching the channel.

5. Aircraft Not Attacking:

A/C 43-38607 - No Credit. Returned early because top turret gunner was suffering from intense stomach pains. A/C stayed up but pains kept getting more severe on gunner. (Personnel)

6. Enemy Opposition:

No air opposition was seen or encountered. (See Flak Report for flak)

7. Battle Damage:

None.

8. Casualties:

None.

9. Statistical Summary of Operations: (See attached form)

10. Disposition of Bombs:

a. Observations:

Lead Squadron: Bomb strikes were seen to hit the aiming point and strike photos indicate excellent results.

Low Squadron: Because of loose formation the pattern was scattered but there were many strikes on the marshalling yards and lines leading to it.

High Squadron: Bomb strikes fell in a loose pattern but covered the bridge and the tracks leading up to it on either side.

MISSION SUMMARY REPORT (Concl'd)

10. Bombing Data: (cont)

b. Disposition of Bombs:

- Lead Sqdn: 12 Scheduled A/C EET and attacked a target of opportunity, dropping 93 X 500# RDX and 49 X 500# GP bombs. The spare returned 3 RDX and 9 GP bombs to base.
- Low Sqdn: All 12 Scheduled A/C EET and attacked a target of opportunity, dropping 79 X 500# RDX and 64 X 500# GP bombs. Spare A/C returned its 12 RDX's to base.
- High Sqdn: 12 A/C EET and attacked targets of opportunity. 11 A/C attacked Ottingen dropping 77 X 500# RDX and 54 X 500# GP bombs. A/C 941 encountered release trouble and dropped 12 X 500# GP's on large highway at 4855-1022E. Aborting A/C #607 returned 12 X 500# GP bombs to base.
